RML Win Business of the Year Award

RML last night collected the Motorsport Industry Association (MIA) Business Excellence Award for Business of the Year 2008. The award was a result of nominations from fellow MIA members who voted for companies they feel have achieved outstanding performances in their field over the last year.

The MIA Business Awards were instituted in 1995 to recognise excellence at all levels within the motorsport industry. The awards were presented during the MIA Industry Awards Dinner, organised in conjunction with the Autosport International Show at the NEC, Birmingham and watched by over five hundred representatives from the international motorsport community.

Ray Mallock commented “I am delighted to receive this award on behalf of the RML workforce. It is a reflection of the whole team’s achievements during the last year. “
